

Northern Territory Owned and Operated

A Veteran and Indigenous Owned Business

Strategy | Culture | Capability

From strategy to implementation IH Advisory combines strategic expertise with practical experience to help organisations navigate complexity, strengthen capability and achieve meaningful, sustainable outcomes.

Consultancy & Strategic Advisory

Strategic advice, organisational reform, business improvement and change management.

People & Culture

HR advisory, workforce strategy, employee relations and leadership capability.

Workplace Investigations & Mediation

Independent investigations, grievance management and workplace conflict resolution.

Operational Leadership

Interim management, operational improvement and leadership during transition.

Facilitation & Development

Strategic workshops, executive coaching, leadership programs and team development.

Illustrative homepage service layout — each tile would link to its own detailed service page.

Services

Consultancy & Strategic Advisory

Strategic advice, organisational reform, business improvement and change management.

People & Culture

HR advisory, workforce strategy, employee relations and leadership capability.

Workplace Investigations & Mediation

Independent investigations, grievance management and workplace conflict resolution.

Operational Leadership

Interim management, operational improvement and leadership during transition.

Facilitation & Development

Strategic workshops, executive coaching, leadership programs and team development.

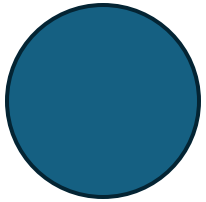

Illustrative homepage service layout — each tile would link to its own detailed service page.

About

IH Advisory is a 100% Veteran and Indigenous-owned local Northern Territory business. We partner with you to deliver strategic business development and tailored solutions that drive your organisation forward. With a core focus on strategy, culture, and capability, we offer a suite of services designed to help your business grow and thrive.

We welcome and service clients from any industry sector. Our foundational expertise is built on over 60 years of combined experience gained through direct employment and high-level consulting across Commonwealth and State government, Not-for-Profits, Defence, Mining, Construction, Healthcare, and Tourism. This cross-sector expertise equips us with the versatility and depth of knowledge to solve complex challenges for any business, regardless of industry.

From targeted interventions to complex enterprise-wide transformations, we have the capabilities to analyse, optimise, and resolve your unique challenges.

Meet Michelle
Partner

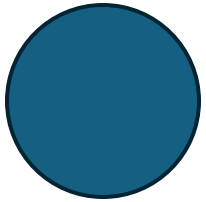

Michelle is an accomplished senior executive, management consultant and organisational change specialist with extensive experience leading people, programs and complex transformation initiatives across government, private enterprise and not-for-profit sectors.

With a career spanning human resources, organisational development, strategic reform and operational leadership, Michelle brings a unique combination of strategic insight and hands-on management experience. She has held senior executive and leadership positions across the Northern Territory Government and has worked with organisations in the health, defence, construction, utilities and community services sectors.

Michelle specialises in helping organisations navigate complex challenges, strengthen leadership capability, improve organisational performance and implement meaningful change. Her expertise encompasses strategic and operational management, organisational reviews, workforce transformation, employee relations, leadership development and change management.
Known for her pragmatic, collaborative and outcomes -focused approach, Michelle has a proven ability to quickly understand complex operating environments, build trusted relationships and deliver practical solutions. She is equally comfortable working with executive teams on strategic priorities as she is stepping into operational leadership roles to drive improvements and support teams through periods of change.

Michelle is passionate about developing capable leaders, building effective teams and creating workplaces where people and organisations can thrive. She brings integrity, sound judgement and a genuine commitment to achieving sustainable outcomes to every engagement.

Michelle's philosophy is simple: good advice must be practical, achievable and make a meaningful difference

Meet Pat
Partner

Pat is an Organisational Behaviour and Workforce Strategy specialist. With decades of leadership and strategic human resources experience, he has the skills to decode the human dynamics that drive organisational success. By bridging the gap between how people think and how organisations perform, Pat moves beyond generic HR fixes to uncover, analyse, and optimise workplace human actions. His tailored behavioural insights improve productivity, resolve structural friction, transform company culture, and elevate leadership capability to naturally drive employee job satisfaction and long-term retention.

With a distinguished career as a Commissioned Army Officer and senior roles across State Government and the private sector, Pat brings superior analytical and problem-solving skills perfected in highly demanding operational environments. He is a proven authority in successfully navigating large-scale organisational change, continuous improvement initiatives, and deep-seated workplace conflict. Having managed complex, geographically dispersed workforces and directly supervised teams of up to 150 personnel across various sectors, Pat knows how to unlock human potential and keep diverse teams aligned under time-critical or high-pressure conditions.

At the core of Pat's expertise is a dual mastery of cultural alignment and practical workforce logistics. He specialises in breaking down workplace friction by diagnosing beneath-the-surface behavioural root causes rather than merely treating the symptoms. This people-centric strategy allows organisations to undergo critical transformations seamlessly, keeping workforce disruption to a minimum. His extensive experience managing regional talent pipelines, spearheading rapid staffing re-alignments, and executing tailored community and diversity pathways allows him to connect high-level human resource strategy directly with practical, front-line execution.

Pat’s philosophy is simple. He is a firm believer in the idea that your people are your most important asset. When your workforce thrives, your organisation thrives.

Insights

Article 1

Article 2

Article 3